My dad gave me one dollar bill  'Cause I'm his smartest son,  And I swapped it for two shiny quarters  2 = 1 'Cause two is more than one!	 = _____
And then I took the quarters  And traded them to Lou  For three dimes -- I guess he don't know  3 = 2 That three is more than two!	 = _____
Just then, along came old blind Bates  And just 'cause he can't see  He gave me four nickels for my three dimes,  4 = 3 And four is more than three!	 = _____
And I took the nickels to Hiram Coombs  ↓ Down at the seed-feed store,  And the fool gave me five pennies for them, And  5 = 4 five is more than four!	 = _____
